THE KEY TO HAPPINESS IS HAPPY

Glen Ivy Hot Springs
There is a place your soul longs to be, a land of limitless possibility, a wonderland of abundant fun. Glen Ivy is a utopian expanse under a vast open sky, nestled in a valley beneath the Santa Ana Mountains. A mere 50 minutes, yet a land apart, from the big city. Here you let go, breathe deep, giggle and open your heart to your self and the huge diversity of kindred spirits. This is a place that feeds your soul, nourishes your spirit, rejuvenates body and mind, and will leave you longing to return again and again.

83 ACRES OF BLISS
With 19 pools, our signature red clay and grotto experiences, 61 treatment rooms, 9 mani/pedi stations, two savory eateries, and 17 acres of meandering garden pathways, Glen Ivy is one of the largest spa wellness destinations in America.
Generations of Native Americans soaked in these mystical waters, as have countless travelers since 1860. Today 170,000 people a year enter our grounds to heal and soothe soul, spirit and body.

Nature’s magic conspired here to create an ecotone, a sweet spot of two converging, distinct ecosystems, where nature’s abundance — an astounding 250 species of birds, animals and plants — thrive unlike anywhere else. So it goes with their human counterparts: thrive, flourish, renew. A fusion of past and present, Glen Ivy is ageless beauty.
Swim laps, take an aqua class or sit in the quiet tranquility of the naturally thermal mineral baths.
Feel the energy and hear the song of birds when you walk the lush, verdant grounds. Splash, touch, immerse, wander, float, slather, taste, sip and restore a feeling of connectedness to yourself and to friends in a veritable playground of bountiful options. We’re all in this together. Embracing life and one another is somehow easier here, where ancient voices resonate in a wondrous palette of nature.

6° OF CONNECTEDNESS

Soaking in the mineral-rich thermal waters and red clay mud baths is a tradition practiced around the world since ancient times.
SAVOR THE RITUAL

The ancient rite of healing recalls a deeper part of one’s self. Whether you are drawn to a therapeutic massage or a thick tribal-like smear of red-mineral clay — baked warm in the sun — you are encouraged to savor the rituals of healthy joy here.

Deep in the Grotto, in this darkened cave, delight in being painted from head to toe with a delicious mix of hydrating aloe, shea butter and coconut oil. The options are both immersive and overflowing. There’s no end to the delight you’ll feel both on the surface and deep inside, here at Glen Ivy.

We use only products that boast nature’s best and highest-grade ingredients to detox, moisturize and replenish you and the skin you are in.
Hidden at the outermost edge of the sanctuary is a place where solitude and quietude reign.
AWAKEN YOUR BLISS

Our unique year-round wellness experience is offered under a boundless, brilliant sky. Enjoy an outdoor massage beneath the shade of ancient oaks or “om” in the cool reserve of comfortable cabanas. Whet your imagination with 17 acres, 19 pools and spas, including naturally thermal mineral baths, a cold plunge and a saline pool.

Our fruit and herb-infused organic facials, body treatments, manicures/pedicures and massages nurture wellness and health. Daily classes include our very own JoyFitness yoga, tai chi, aqua aerobics and workshops to inspire. The open grounds beckon you to discover and rejuvenate. The goal here is simple; awaken your bliss.
Our indoor-outdoor open architecture offers room to breathe. Unlike most spa experiences, we invite you to roam freely to discover your delight.
THE POWERS OF ATTRACTION

Glen Ivy is the sum total of its people and parts; devotion and experience that are brought to bear over every expression of the customer experience. We’ve made bliss an art-form.
Serious business
In pursuit of the prestigious Malcolm Baldrige National Quality Award, recognizing performance excellence in the U.S., Glen Ivy is in the process of securing it’s ISO 9001 quality certification. Glen Ivy represents the highest caliber of standards and practices in the industry. Your experience here will tell you that the facilities, people, training, services and equipment have met and regularly exceed the highest expectations of a discerning clientele.

Cuisine
Two restaurants on the property provide ample seating and delightful alternatives to nourish the day. Choose from Café Solé’s Mediterranean and World Style cuisine to fresh daily musings of Sunflower Sushi. Our celebrated, award-winning Executive Chef, Bill Wavrin, has curated a menu of flavors that are as imaginative and varied as they are delicious.

The partnerships
There are endless ingredients that go into your Glen Ivy experience. From the organically grown and locally sourced food, to the salts and creams, muds and anti-aging elixirs that comprise our treatments, premium quality is standard. And we are proud to partner with Primavera, SpaRitual, NuFACE, Clarisonic and Jane Iredale in the packages of pampering we offer and send home from our gift shop.

The pedigree
Over 450 of the most highly trained and accredited therapists, intuitive service staff, and devoted management with long-standing hospitality experience contribute here.

A diverse set of complementary skills empower us to serve a remarkably diverse clientele in both a seamlessly consistent and powerfully positive way. Just read our reviews on the Internet.

The future
83 acres, the hot springs, a historic lodge, botanical gardens, certified organic farm, orchard, and the myriad of its component parts are ripe for development, growth and expansion.

Just imagine the possibilities.

CEO and President Jim Root graduated from the prestigious Cornell University School of Hotel Administration, launching a 36-year career devoted to refining his Spa and Hospitality management instincts at such world-renowned spas as Rancho La Puerta, Miraval, Meadowood Napa Valley and Sea Island Resorts.

In his five years at Glen Ivy, Root envisioned and championed Glen Ivy’s transition to distinct holistic philosophies and a culture of social “Spa-ing,” in turn, boosting visitor attendance to over 200,000 annually and amassing numerous top local, regional and national awards for both the Hot Springs and Glen Ivy Brea.

Root is a past Chairman of the International Spa Association, the leading worldwide Spa Professional Organization. Known for employee team building, Root envisioned and directed the organizational and operational change at Glen Ivy creating memorable, life-changing experiences for Spa guests.

Cristen Stier CPA, CFO

Awards and Recognition

It is our pleasure to serve you during your visits to Glen Ivy and we sincerely appreciate your continued support. The following institutions have recognized Glen Ivy and honor the commitment to inspiring memorable, meaningful and enjoyable experiences for everyone, every day.

“The Spirit Award is being designated to an exceptional facility that is not classified by any of the categories above. The Spirit Award was created especially for this recipient, as it is more than a spa; it fuses the past and the present to create a unique vision for the future. This establishment has set unprecedented benchmarks in our industry, encapsulating the human spirit in the programs, services, therapies and treatments they offer.” - Les Nouvelles Esthétiques & Spa Magazine, September, 2011

Perfection

“I’ve been here 5 times and I am surprised I have not written a review. I love the ambiance and service here. I have never received bad service and the place is always clean. Fresh towels and relaxation...this is a great place to hang with the girls or your special someone.” - Sandra S. 5/8/13, Yelp

Excellent mother daughter getaway!

“Relaxing and beautiful way to getaway! Spent a 1/2 day with my daughter at Glen Ivy. The massage, hot tub, pool and sauna were all excellent. The staff were very friendly and helpful - provided excellent guidance for first time visitors. We are already looking forward to a second visit!” - Ealaniz, 6.18.13, TripAdvisor

It was fun and relaxing!

“It was my first time here and I loved it. I bought a day and had access to sauna, steam room, all pools, mud baths and jacuzzis. Massages or anything else was extra but very reasonable. I have decided to go there once a month throughout summer. Love this place and the mud bath was amazing.” - Marsunset, 5.28.13, TripAdvisor
